news from our SPONSORS

Economics Society of Australia

EFS have also joined forces with the Economic Society of Australia (ESA). ESA is a professional body whose aim is to encourage the study of economics, assist professional development and produce a renowned journal of economic work. ESA also hold events throughout the year, which provide incredible opportunities to meet professionals from companies such as RBS Morgans, QIC and the Reserve Bank of Australia (Queensland Branch).

economics and finance NEWS

As of the 16th of February, ASIC have charged 5 people have with insider trading this financial year

www.asic.gov.au/asic/asic.nsf/byheadline/1025AD+Two+NSW+me+n+charged+with+insider+trading?openDocument

This, along with the ASX transferring regulatory powers to ASIC sees a changing regulatory scene. Students and economics and finance professionals should expect greater requirements of corporate governance and business ethics, such as that encouraged by QUT's very own Colian Brain Governance Fellowship
